Beneficiary Nominations for (National Tertiary Retirement Fund) Policy Reference Number 60101001024 (Employee Number: 18814)

It is an unfortunate fact of life that all of us have to consider the remote possibility of meeting an early death. From a retirement fund's perspective the trustees are required to ensure that benefits are distributed in an equitable manner, whilst ensuring that dependants are cared for. To do so, the trustees require as much information as possible to enable them to decide on a distribution.

DEPENDANTS are your spouse and children of any age and any other people who are financially dependent on your support. Please list such people below, even if you do not want them to receive a portion of your death benefit (e.g. a self supporting adult child).

NOMINEES are other people who are not financially dependent on you but for whom you would like the Trustees to pay a portion of your death In terms of the Pension Funds Act, a member's dependants and nominees (people who are not dependants but who are nominated in writing by the member) must be considered by the Trustees when they decide in what shares the death benefits is to be paid on the death of the member.
